

C. NICK BERRY - My name is Nick Berry and I am a proud citizen of Bluffdale. My enthusiasm for the beauty and lifestyle of our city prompted me to run for City Council. I have a desire to support my fellow citizens in keeping the small town cultural feel, while capitalizing on the inevitable economic growth and constant development. We need someone who can manage the changes our great city will be facing over the next several years.

I was raised in Holladay Utah, later moved to Sandy. I served an LDS mission in Korea. I've lived in Utah my entire life. I've worked in the financial sector since 1994. I've been a financial analyst with my current company since 2000. You can see my professional bio: <http://www.linkedin.com/pub/nick-berry/6/973/418>

Big picture, the nation is in a financial mess. We need to start at local and state governments to solve the problem.
